10th Annual Cloud Computing & Big Data Analytics 2017

22nd March 2017, The Lalit Ashok Hotel, Bangalore, India

CONFERENCE INTRODUCTION:-

Virtue Insight seeks to provide a high-quality and comprehensive knowledge, where researchers and practitioners can exchange information on engineering principles, enabling technologies, and practical experiences as related to cloud computing & big data. By bringing together experts that work on different levels of the cloud stack - systems, storage, networking, platforms, databases, and applications, we will offer an end-to-end view on the challenges and technologies in cloud and big data, For the most innovative startups, cloud computing is the dominant model for technology innovation and business disruption. Enterprise IT organizations are rapidly trying to determine how to harness cloud computing to bring agility to their businesses as well, but they are challenged with legacy application portfolios, new security models and compliance complexities. Determining how to deploy private, public or hybrid cloud for existing and cloud native applications will have direct impact on their business successes or failures.

Virtue Insight will help attendees think about the potential of cloud and big data and services that are best suited for their businesses, and explore how the technology can be integrated into both legacy systems and new initiatives.

It gives me immense pleasure to invite you to join a proactive exchange at 10th Annual Cloud Computing & Big Data Analytics 2017 conference for exclusive networking with India's top technology leaders to discuss how to future proof cloud computing & big data adoption strategies to achieve commercial advantage.

KEY THEMES DISCUSSED AT THIS CONFERENCE:-

- Creating business value from cloud computing and innovation
- Ascent of the devices: Automate your development
- Open source and commercial for automating
- Establishing Event-controlled Server-less applications
- Core functionalities to build and the relationships among the resources you use
- Cloud the Disruptor: Transforming businesses with cloud infrastructure
- How is cloud supporting your new business models, and enabling greater innovation and speed to market?
- Data management and integration foundations of big data initiative
- Propelling the state of the art in Big Data analytics with complex applications
- Challenges and opportunities faced by developers of composite big data applications
- Architecting Cloud with Cloud Foundry
- Cloud & Big Data: Converging technologies
- How cloud computing models can help accelerate the potential for scalable analytics solutions
- DevOps and Automation in the Cloud
- How DevOps provides control and visibility that improves security posture
- Cyber security challenges
- How can you minimize the security impact of mobile devices in the enterprise?
- Building Private Cloud Infrastructure and Security
- Cloud Concerns and the Future - Where are we heading with this cloud era?
- The future of cloud and big data - 2017 and beyond
- Network in our combined exhibition and catering area
- Evening networking reception for all attendees

WHO SHOULD ATTEND :-

Business managers, IT professionals and Channel managers should all be present at the 10th Annual Cloud Computing and Big Data Analytics 2017. Job titles include:

- What criteria do you look for from your cloud providers when searching for optimum flexibility and scalability?
- Looking into the future: what exciting opportunities do you see the cloud and IoT bringing to your customer experience and revenue streams?
- Review market trends and key industry challenges with scaling clouds, as well as strategies that will allow industry to accelerate the benefits cloud solutions will bring
- How cloud based data solutions providers bring elasticity, scalability and reduced time to insight the power of a fully managed environment
- Data management and integration foundations of big data initiative
- The confluence of data integration and data management disciplines into a unified approach
- Enabling the hybrid world of on-premises and cloud based application services and data to operate more holistically to deliver business value.

Moderator:

LUX RAO, Director & Leader - Digital Transformation, Cisco

Panellists:

SEENUVASAN AMARANATHAN, Solution Architect Director, Dell

SUBHASH CHANDRA, Cloud Platform - India Lead, Google

PREETOM GOSWAMI, Director, Cloud Practice, Cloud Infrastructure Services, Capgemini

ANNIE MATHEW, Director, Microsoft

11:50 – Establishing Event-controlled Server-less applications

- Event-driven user interfaces
- Data flows and what is the propagation of changes
- Using reactive programming techniques
- Core functionalities to build and the relationships among the resources you use
- Ensuring architecture efficiency and cost competent to continuing AWS and dealing accessibility, scalability and security

12:20 – Ascent of the devices: Automate your development

- Automation in software development
- Automated build and deployment
- Scripts to help make our daily work easier
- Open source and commercial for automating

12:50 – Networking luncheon

Afternoon Chair person

14:00 – DISCUSSION WITH EXPERTS: Cloud & Big Data: Converging technologies

- Create competitive benefit using cloud-built data analytics
- How cloud and big data technologies are merging to render a cost-efficient delivery model for cloud-based data analytics.
- How cloud computing models can help accelerate the potential for scalable analytics solutions
- How cloud computing is a facilitator for improved analytics with big data
- How IT can anticipate leadership for cloud-based big data analytics in the enterprise by developing a factor of cloud services
- Analytics-as-a-service (AaaS) models for cloud-based big data analytics

10th Annual Cloud Computing & Big Data Analytics 2017

22nd March 2017, The Lalit Ashok Hotel, Bangalore, India

- Which component of the cloud is the most difficult to optimise for big data analytics?
- Pragmatic next steps to start on cloud-based big data analytics initiative
- Unlocking the possibilities of big data in clouds
- The role of the cloud, its software mass and big data analytics in scientific research

Moderator:

SARITA PRASANNA, Strategy Lead, Wells Fargo

Panellists:

RAJIB DAS SHARMA, VP & Head of Enterprise Architecture - Digital Transformation, Happiest Minds Technologies

KRISHNA MARKANDE, AVP, Principal Architect, Engineering Services, Infosys

GS MURTHY, CTO, Hewlett Packard Enterprise

14:40 - DevOps and Automation in the Cloud

BAPIRAJU NANDURY, Program Director, Power Systems Software, IBM

15:10 - Topic TBC

ASHOK PAMIDI, Senior Director, NASSCOM

15:30 - Afternoon Tea/Coffee

CONVERGENCE OF IoT IN CLOUD & BIG DATA

15:50 - The impact of the Internet of Things on Cloud Computing and Big Data Analytics

The Internet of Things (IoT) rapidly evolving and pushing the data storage and computing frontiers to new limits

- The need for cloud computing and big data analytics for the IoT
- Limitations of current cloud computing and big data analytics methods
- The need for new computing models for temporal event handling
- The need for standardized computing models and tools for data analytics for rapid IoT application development

SYAM MADANAPALLI, Global Head - IoT Delivery, Dell

16:20 - Deep Learning approach to Big Data Analytics

SUNDARA RAMALINGAM NAGALINGAM, Head - Deep Learning Practice, NVIDIA Graphics

16:40 - DISCUSSION WITH EXPERTS: Building Private Cloud Infrastructure and Security

- Private cloud design principles
- The importance of cloud orchestration software
- Selecting optimal compute capacity
- Storage aspects, including software-defined storage (SDS)
- Network services implementation (physical appliances or virtualized network services)
- Selecting optimal network virtualization technology
- Designing network infrastructure and network services clusters
- How abstraction and automation affect common security controls.
- Design and management for secure cloud networks.
- Implementing automation to maintain security at the speed of the cloud.

Moderator:
